“

These friends, these people, this environment made me complete. I was always looking for this, and it came to me. I embraced it. I hoped to make memories I would carry throughout my life. I feel like I accomplished that and even more. I made a family here.”

ABOUT

Founded in 1871, Harvard Summer School is the oldest academic summer program in the United States. Each summer, thousands of students study with Harvard faculty and visiting scholars while enjoying access to on-campus facilities and Boston's rich cultural landscape.

The real value here is the community that creates the kind of people who make Harvard famous. When you have so many pushing you to become your best and to do what they know you can do, I don't think there is any limit. Come here if you want to become better and make an impact."
